

Imagine a place.

Where people care. And smile.
And live life to the fullest.

A place for your soul, for your mind. For your hands, for your heart. For your children, for your teens, for your parents.

For your special needs brothers and sister, sons and daughters.

For your family, for your community.

For the whole you!

When it comes to our youth, our philosophy is simple; education is not limited to the hours a child sits in a classroom, but must become a way of life.

Through an exciting mix of hands-on programming, children learn the importance of kindness and good deeds, and experience fun and interactive programs about Jewish history, holidays and practices.

YOUTH CLASSROOMS

We strive to stress the beauty and warmth of Judaism and its Mitzvot. With our unique educational approach, our students are motivated and empowered to explore and discover the beauty of their heritage in an atmosphere of joy, warmth and acceptance.

OUTDOOR PAVILION

Playgrounds are a safe place for children to come together and have fun - and every child, no matter where they come from or their circumstances, should have equal access to them.

Alongside the Inclusive Playground, we plan an outdoor patio space to hold milestone celebration & communal events.

Inclusion: valuing every person based solely on that person's inner essence.

The Rebbe tasked us to make Judaism accessible to everyone, without regard to that person's physical or spiritual status. It is the Rebbe's message that has empowered Chabad to be instinctively inclusive — to embrace each and every person and treat him or her like family, regardless of background or lifestyle.

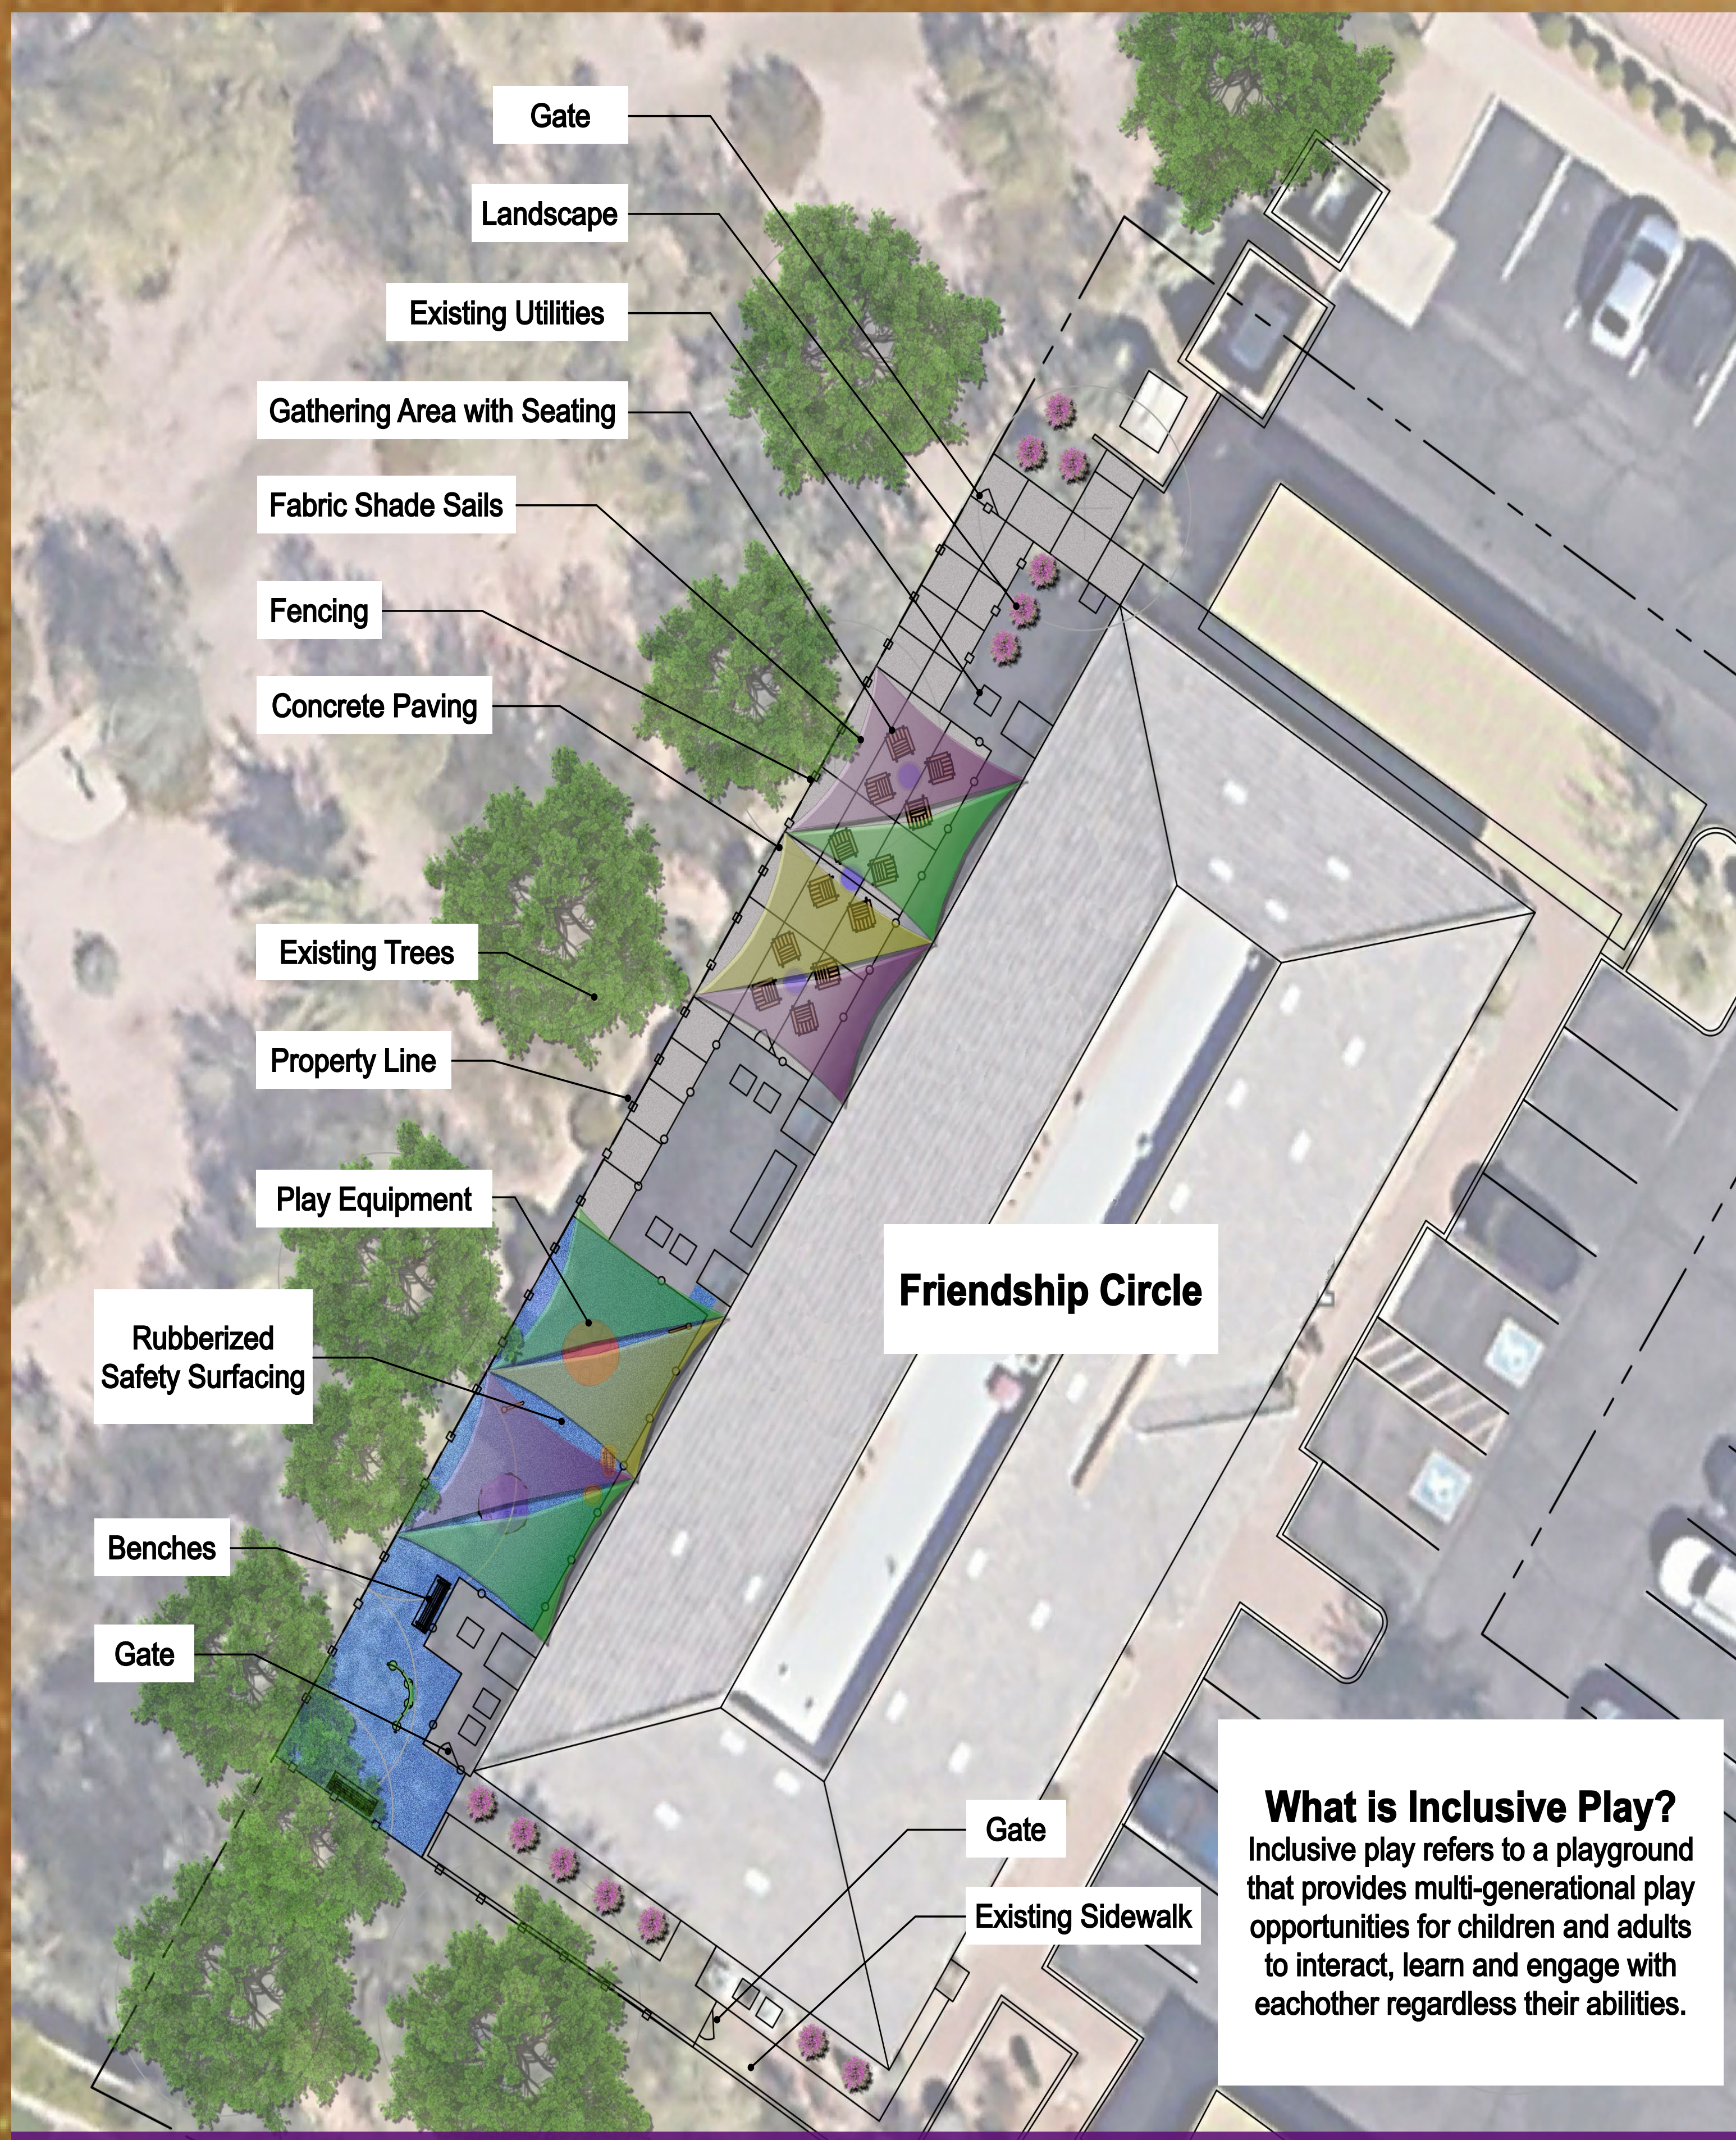

Inclusion goes beyond welcoming and accessible spaces. Real inclusion is when someone feels that they belong—and that they are valued.

Thank you for joining us in taking these important steps toward inclusion.

What is Inclusive Play?
 Inclusive play refers to a playground that provides multi-generational play opportunities for children and adults to interact, learn and engage with each other regardless their abilities.

Inclusive Playground Ideas

There is a misconception that an accessible playground is synonymous with an inclusive playground. However, simply ensuring accessibility for mobility devices on a playground is only part of a truly inclusive play design. An inclusive playground welcomes kids and families of all abilities to learn, play and grow together.

A truly inclusive playground doesn't have areas off to the side for children with disabilities, or designated spaces for special needs playground equipment. Inclusive means everyone is a part of play with peers of all abilities. Inclusive playgrounds create an atmosphere where everyone can interact with each other, explore, imagine and play together.
